

Short Curriculum Vitae
Vinícius Pereira Guimarães
EMBRAPA-LABEX-EUROPE COORDINATOR

- Graduate in Foreign Trade/Administration
- Graduate in Animal Science
- Master in Animal Science
- PhD in Animal Production with sandwich period at Texas A&M University (US) with emphasis in rural economy
- In the United States received the Dr. Joseph Fontenot Appreciation Club Award from the American Society of Animal Science
- Was a consultant at Embrapa and a Regional Scientific Development Fellow
- Was the professor of economics at Law and Administration courses and the Research and Extension Coordinator at Faculty Luciano Feijão
- Was a professor of the Veterinary Course at Faculty INTA.
- Was an associate editor of the Brazilian Journal of Animal Science and a reviewer of several national and international journals.
- Have experience in Research and Development projects in the US, Europe and Africa.
- Was the Coordinator of International Affairs at Embrapa Goats and Sheep
- Was Deputy Head of Research and Development of Embrapa Goats and Sheep
- Was the Coordinator of the Intelligence Center and Market of Goats and Sheep
- Was Deputy Head of Technology Transfer at Embrapa Goats and Sheep
- He is an Embrapa's researcher in the area of socioeconomics with emphasis on territorial intelligence, agricultural management, modeling and systems simulation
- He is a Rural Producer
- Currently he is the Embrapa-Labex-Europe Coordinator